Welcome!

McMaster's MA in Globalization Studies provides students with the opportunity to think creatively about cultural, political, social, and economic globalizing processes in the contemporary era. These processes, often accelerated by information and communication technologies, have redefined in unequal ways how individuals and communities experience and view the world. They also present new challenges to students, researchers and practitioners intent on understanding both the contemporary era and its historical antecedents.

Students in the program can take courses and conduct research on globalization in relation to a wide range of topics such as contemporary culture; diasporic, transnational and multicultural communities; global governance; international trade and finance; and social, environmental and labour issues.

Our faculty members work together in an interdisciplinary way. They come from departments across the Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences including Anthropology; English and Cultural Studies; History; Labour Studies; Political Science; Religious Studies; and Social Work. The program fosters a strong sense of collegiality between program students and faculty from all participating departments.

Students should consult the general university regulations for an MA degree in the School of Graduate Studies Graduate Calendar, available at: <https://academiccalendars.romcmaster.ca/index.php>

It is particularly important that students be aware of the regulations governing such matters as full-time and part-time status, leaves of absence, deadlines for adding and dropping courses, and thesis supervision (Major Research Project).

MA Program Information

Requirements and Duration of Study

The program consists of coursework and a Major Research Paper (MRP, GLOBALST 708) with a maximum length of 10,000 words, i.e., 35 to 40 pages. Completion time for the coursework and MRP will be twelve months of full-time study. In total, students take a total of six graduate half courses (or equivalent): two core courses, two other Globalization courses, at least one of which should be offered by IGHC, and two electives. During the fall term, each student will take the first required core course (GLOBALST 710) plus two other half courses. During the winter term, each student will take the second core course (GLOBALST 709) and an additional two half courses. Elective courses may be taken from any discipline (subject to obtaining permissions from course instructors or the offering departments) and may be concentrated in a single discipline, if students so choose. The program is designed to allow students to develop interdisciplinary skills while also fulfilling requirements for further discipline-based graduate work. By selecting discipline-based options and research paper topics, students maintain the option of pursuing doctoral work in a traditional discipline.

It is important to note that the University uses a letter grade system (A+, A, A-, B+, B, B-). A grade below B- in any graduate course is considered a failure. In the event a student receives a failing grade, the Institute reserves the authority to recommend that he or she withdraw from the program. Compulsory courses and training modules include the following:

GlobalSt 708, Major Research Paper (MRP)

- A year-long course created to administer the MRP. All three parts of the course: GlobalSt 708A (Fall), 708B (Winter), and 708C (Summer) need to be registered in Mosaic.
- Involves two MRP-focused sessions in term 1, an MRP check-in session in February, and the MRP work-in-progress colloquium in April. Further details on these sessions will be provided prior to each session.
- Final draft to be submitted to the supervisor and second reader for grading by refer to important dates. The MRP is graded as a Pass or a Fail.

GlobalSt 709, Designing Global Research: Approaches, Methods, and Techniques*

- This course will explore theoretical issues concerning interdisciplinary research methods related to globalization studies, and will provide students with practical examples of current faculty research projects in preparation for developing and undertaking their own research.
- To be taken during term 2

GlobalSt 710, Globalization: An Introduction*

- An introduction to major theories and debates in the field of globalization studies
- To be taken during term 1

SGS 101, Academic Research Integrity and Ethics

- Register in Mosaic
- Accessible via Avenue to Learn at <http://avenue.mcmaster.ca/>

SGS 201, Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA)

- Register in Mosaic
- Accessible via Avenue to Learn at <http://avenue.mcmaster.ca/>
- A perfect grade (10/10) is to be achieved with unlimited attempts
- More information available at <https://accessibility.mcmaster.ca/training/aoda-and-human-rights-code-training/>
- This should take around 30 minutes
- Complete by the end of September

Job Hazard Analysis (JHA)

- All new TAs or RA in lieu of TAs must complete a JHA form with their supervisors
- This is an online process available on the HR wellness website
- It takes approximately 15 minutes and can be part of the first meeting with your supervisors

The complete list of Globalization courses is available in the School of Graduate Studies Calendar. The Globalization courses that are offered during 2023-2024 are listed on IGHC's website.

Part-Time MA in Globalization Studies

The requirements for the part-time MA are the same as those for the full-time MA, but the degree is completed over a longer time period (typically three years). The School of Graduate Studies permits a part-time student to take up to three half courses per academic year.

Major Research Paper (MRP) Guidelines

Overview

The MRP must be no more than 10,000 words (35 to 40 pages, font 12, double spaced, 1.25 inch margins, footnote or endnote citation), not including the bibliography, and focus on a globalization-related topic. At the beginning of the winter term, each student will identify a potential supervisor and prepare a proposal for their research paper. Identifying and arranging a second reader is the responsibility of the student, with advice and approval from the student's supervisor. If no appropriate second reader has been found by May 1, IGHC will determine one.

Selecting a Topic

Students are responsible for selecting a topic for study or research. These choices must be approved by a supervisor and by the Director. The topic should be of a scope that is manageable within the time available and may develop an idea from an essay submitted for a course.

Selecting a Supervisor

Potential MRP supervisors are to be consulted as early as October. By the first week of January, students should have decided on the general area in which they wish to study and have chosen a manageable topic (which is likely to be redefined in discussion with the supervisor). Students who need help finding a supervisor should consult either with the Director or with an IGHC instructor.

Fall MRP Information Session

It will provide an overview of the MRP process, provide tips on how to select a feasible topic and discuss which types of research require formal research ethics clearance and what this involves. You should come prepared with an initial tentative topic idea (which can be changed at a later point) which you will present in the session and receive feedback on.

Fall MRP Planning Session

It will provide an opportunity to brainstorm with others about your topic and supervisor. You will be expected to prepare a brief written topic statement (400 words maximum) and submit it to the IGHC office via email. This will be circulated to all the students in the program as well as the IGHC Director and Associate Director for everyone to review prior to the planning session. This written topic statement should include the research question you will address in your MRP, why it is of benefit for the world for you to do this research (for instance what new contribution to knowledge will you be providing), and what types of sources of information you plan to use. At the session you will have an opportunity to speak about your MRP plan and receive feedback. You are free subsequently to choose a different topic for your MRP, but this session will provide practice in identifying a researchable topic.

Winter MRP Check-In Session

This session will provide an opportunity to check in with you and for you to receive advice on your progress on refining your topic and having it approved by your supervisor. You should have arranged a supervisor by this point.

Submitting a Proposal

Students must submit their supervisor-approved proposals to the IGHC office by important dates.

Obtaining Ethics Approval

A student whose work involves human subjects, including interviewees, will need to seek approval through the McMaster Research Ethics Board (MREB). Given the short timeline for MRPs, it is imperative to initiate the application process early. The MREB website is to be checked for drop-in dates as well as consultations and seminars on the application process. If there is doubt whether a paper will require an ethics review, a student is to consult with his or her supervisor and/or the Director.

Field Work and Other Distinctive Research Considerations

The timeline for completion and evaluation of the MRP may create challenges for MRPs that involve field work, research ethics approval, or some other type of research that involves unusual methods or forms of knowledge. For these MRPs students may request a different timeline for the completion and submission of the MRP. This request should be sent to the IGHC office as early in the process as possible.

Student/Supervisor Agreements

Supervisors and students are strongly advised to familiarize themselves with the Institute's "2023-2024 Important Dates" to ensure that work is submitted and returned on time. (For some, signing a contract is helpful.) Meetings should be in person wherever possible, though travel in the summer may make it necessary to communicate via email.

MRP Work-in-Progress Colloquium

Students must present an oral report of their work-in-progress to their peers at a colloquium on Wednesday, April 24, 2024. These presentations give students the opportunity to share their work and to receive feedback from an audience with different levels of familiarity with the area of research.

Final Submission

A first full draft MRP must be submitted to your supervisor no later than the deadline. You should expect comments and suggestions from your supervisor by the deadline. A revised second draft of your MRP is due to your supervisor by the deadline. You should expect comments on that draft from your supervisor by the deadline. A final hard copy and/or electronic version of the MRP must be submitted to both the supervisor and the reader by 4 pm, the deadline, at which point the supervisor and the reader will evaluate the paper on a pass or fail basis and provide written commentary. It is important to note that the Program Administrator will not distribute MRP submissions to supervisors and readers; it is the responsibility of the student to ensure that hard and /or electronic copies of MRP are delivered to all parties by the due date. You may be expected to make some final corrections following this final assessment by the supervisor and second reader if they identify minor errors in your MRP. A PDF file of the final MRP, with these minor corrections (if any were identified) must be sent to globalhc@mcmaster.ca by the deadline. Students who fail to meet the submission deadlines may be required to register and pay fees for an additional term (or terms) in order to complete the degree.

Other Administrative information

Address Change

Students are responsible for keeping their personal contacts, such as addresses and phone numbers up to date. Ensure you provide the IGHC office with this information.

Bus Passes

All full-time graduate students are eligible for HSR U-Pass/Presto Card. Please see the Graduate Students Association link for more details: <https://gsa.mcmaster.ca/services/hsr-bus-pass/>

CUPE

The Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE), Local 3906, Unit 1, represents all individuals employed as teaching assistants, demonstrators, tutors, super tutors, markers, and research assistants who receive research assistantships in lieu of teaching assistantships. If you are receiving a Teaching Assistantship or a Research Assistantship in lieu of TA, you are a member of CUPE. Union dues are deducted when you receive TA/RA payment. The union office is located in KTH B111. <http://www.cupe3906.org/>

Dental Plan

All full-time graduate students who are receiving a TA and/or RA in lieu of a TA of 130 hours or greater will have Dental Plan premiums deducted the first pay for the full year (Sept to Aug). Provisions for opting out of the Dental Plan or for obtaining family coverage are covered in a separate document which describes the CUPE Dental Plan. For more information, please visit <http://cupe3906.org/tas-unit-1/dental-plan/>

Fees and Payment

Information on tuition and supplementary fees for the MA Globalization program, as well as payment methods, can be found on the Office of the Registrar's website. <https://gs.mcmaster.ca/current-students/fees-and-payment/>

Full-time Status

Full-time students are expected to limit time spent on employment both inside and outside the University. Full-time students who are participating in McMaster-based paid employment should work no more than an average of 10 hours a week to a maximum of 505 hours in the academic year. Normally, students who exceed this limit are asked to drop down to part-time status, to stop working, or reduce their hours of work. Changing student status from full-time to part-time will affect a student's scholarship funding, OSAP, and student visa.

Full-time off campus

Full-time students are obliged to be geographically available and visit the campus regularly for all three terms of the university year from September to August, except for vacation periods or authorized off-campus status. Students who absent themselves from campus for more than four weeks in any term, without permission from the Department and the appropriate Associate Dean of Graduate Studies, will be deemed to have withdrawn voluntarily from graduate study. Students may arrange, through the Department and the Associate Dean of Graduate Studies, to be “full-time off-campus” for periods of up to a year. In cases of unauthorized absence, the student will have to petition for readmission. The appropriate Committee on Graduate Admissions and Study will rule on each request on a case-by-case basis. No guarantee of readmission or of renewal of financial arrangements can be made.

Graduate Student Vacations

In addition to statutory holidays and the weeklong closing of the University from late December until early January, normal vacation entitlement is two weeks of vacation during the year, to be scheduled by mutual agreement with the research supervisor and the employment supervisor. An exception to this allotment requires approval from IGHC’s Graduate Advisor.

School of Graduate Studies (SGS)

All students are advised to familiarize themselves with the regulations in the School of Graduate Studies Calendar. SGS is located in GH-212, ext. 23679, <https://graduate.mcmaster.ca/>

Teaching Assistantships/Research Assistantships in Lieu of Teaching Assistantships

Some full-time graduate students are offered a teaching assistantship (or research assistantship in lieu of a teaching assistantship) as part of their funding package. Duties involve an average of 10 hours of work a week, and will include some combination of leading tutorials, grading essays, meeting with students during regularly scheduled office hours, and other duties as discussed with the course instructor. It is important to note that assistantship assignments are confirmed in the first and second weeks of September. Every effort is made to match students with departments/courses/areas in which they have some experience. For information on payments for Teaching Assistantships, please visit:
